Nationally-certified trainers offer two workshops to help maximize understanding and minimize conflict in the workplace:

Understanding Personalities in the Workplace

Understanding the characteristics of your own personality and those of your co-workers, employees, and supervisors leads to:

- increased motivation
- better production
- harmony in the workplace.

This interactive workshop:

- guides participants through a simple research-based personality assessment
- teaches them how to utilize their knowledge about personality types
- fosters understanding of workplace relationships.

Available in both a basic two-hour workshop, and an extended four-hour workshop which provides additional activities and discussion groups.

The Multi-Generational Workplace

With four generations at work in most organizations, understanding cross-generational communication issues has become a vital part of the workplace. This presentation:

- provides an entertaining platform for investigating each generation's historical influences,
- gives participants insight into generational workplace motivations,
- discusses generational influences on work values,
- helps foster an appreciation of the unique skill set of each generation in the workplace.

Available in both a basic two-hour workshop, and an extended four-hour workshop which includes multi-generational discussion groups working with real-life case studies.
